

Krikawa's Services:

Krikawa provides a safe and secure outlet to sell your pre-owned jewelry on consignment for up to one year. We display your jewelry on our website for thousands of potential buyers. Prior to listing, we refurbish your jewelry to "showroom condition" and may also arrange an independent appraisal to determine current market value. We consign Krikawa-made jewelry in "good or better" condition that has the potential for resale. We are paid for refurbishing services and retain a percentage when the item sells. We pay you based on the actual selling price within 20 days after your item sells.

How the Selling Price is Determined:

Krikawa initially sets the advertised selling price at 80% of current market value. Factors considered in determining current market value are current price of materials, relevancy of style, previous repairs, quality of diamonds and gemstones, and independent valuations. In some instances, Current Market Value may be less than what you originally paid. We will not sell your jewelry below the Advertised Selling Price without your consent. Our fees are based on the actual Selling Price.

Inspection, Refurbishing Fees:

We evaluate your jewelry free of charge to assess its condition and potential for resale based upon style, degree of customization, and our experience about what is likely to sell. Although we see value in pre-owned rings for budget conscious couples, there is an unwarranted stigma associated with used relationship jewelry. If we decline to consign your jewelry, we will return it to you.

We will provide you with a quote for refurbishing work to bring the piece to saleable condition. We collect the refurbishing fee upfront and complete the necessary work prior to listing. If you decline the quote, then we will return your item to you.

Selling Fees:

When your item sells, Krikawa retains a consignment fee of 25% of the selling price, which is fair and reasonable. You will receive 75% of the actual selling price within twenty days after your jewelry is sold, to accommodate our return policy.

Consignment Period:

We require a minimum six month commitment to sell your jewelry. At the end of this period, we review the listing with you. You may have the item returned to you or we can reduce the selling price to encourage sale. If your jewelry has not sold at the end of twelve months, however, we will remove the listing and return your jewelry to you. In our experience, holding inventory longer than 12 months does not improve its chances of selling.
